

held on Nov. 3, from 6-8pm. The exhibition spans three galleries on the Museum's first floor. This prestigious, juried exhibition of fine craft includes one-of-a-kind pieces, and uniquely creative artwork will be featured. Ethnographer, as well as artist, Rosenbaum brings storytelling to the viewer in the form of folktale paintings full of vibrant, sweeping color. Ongoing - The vivid imagination of a child is the recurring theme for this gallery space and masterpieces by young artists from art classes at The Bascom, local non-profits and schools are on view. We believe in teaching the importance of thinking, creating, exploring and designing and in an effort to support these budding artists their works of art are displayed in changing exhibitions throughout the year. These ongoing displays expose the viewer to the analysis, invention, exploration and decision making processes used by students during the development of ideas into a work of art. Bascom Campus, Ongoing - "Stick Works: Patrick Dougherty Environmental Sculpture". Internationally recognized sculptor Patrick Dougherty has constructed a monumental site-specific work using saplings as his construction material. Gregg Museum of Art & Design, located in the Talley Student Center in the middle of the NCSU campus, Raleigh. Through Dec. 16 - "STREAMING: New Art from Old Bottles," featuring an installation by environmental artist Bryant Holsenbeck. The exhibit offers a rare opportunity to take part in creating a major hands-on artwork alongside well known environmental artist Bryant Holsenbeck. Using thousands of plastic bottles and other recyclables, participants will work together to build an installation in the Gregg Museum galleries as part of the museum's fall exhibition lineup. Through Dec. 16 - "Art Without Artists," co-curated by John Foster and Roger Manley. The exhibition is a show that asks lots of intriguing questions. If someone casually takes a snapshot, and then years later someone else happens to recognize that it is a great photograph, who is the artist—the one who took the picture, or the one who recognized it? Do photographers ever really make works of art, do they just choose them or do they only find them? Can anyone take credit for happy accidents? What about abstract painters? Through Dec. 16 - "SPIRIT - FIRE - SHAKE!," presents works by three African-American artists that evoke shrines and altars, but are perhaps best described as "focal objects," a term Tibetan Buddhists use to refer to physical things that encourage spiritual concentration. Renée Stout is a Washington, DC-based artist who employs a variety of media including painting, drawing, mixed media sculpture, photography and installation in an attempts to create works that encourage self-examination, introspection and the ability to laugh at the absurdities of life. Newark, NJ, artist Kevin Sampson was a former cop and composite sketch artist for over 19 years. He received numerous commendations for his work as a police artist and a medal for valor as a detective. But the death of his third child affected him more deeply than anything he'd seen in the line of duty. After losing several other family members he began making "memorials" from found objects not only to them but also to friends who had died of AIDS or drugs, erecting them in the tough neighborhoods where he lived. Odinga Tyehimba was born in Mound Bayou, MS, grew up in Chicago and California, and served in the US Army before settling in Durham, NC. At hip-hop gatherings he found himself impressed by the African-themed staffs that many of the emcees wielded, and soon began carving canes and staffs of his own. These soon morphed into larger figures and assemblages that incorporate personal, political and mythological symbolism reflecting African traditions and mainstream Christianity as well as other belief systems like Voodoo and Santeria. Ongoing - The Gregg's collecting focus reflects the mission of North Carolina State University and supports its academic programs by providing research opportunities for NCSU students and the citizens of North Carolina and beyond. The collection includes, but is not limited to, textiles, ceramics, outsider/folk art, photography, architectural drawings & modern furniture. The Gregg Museum of Art & Design also puts on six to eight exhibitions per year in its two galleries, in addition to exhibiting work at various places in the Talley Student Center and around campus. Hours: Mon.-Fri., noon-8pm and Sat.-Sun., 2-8pm. Contact: 919/515-3503 or at (www.ncsu.edu/arts).

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Through Feb. 10, 2013 - "Edvard Munch: Symbolism in Print". The great Norwegian artist Edvard Munch (1863-1944) created some of the most visually arresting and psychologically powerful images in the history of art. Best known in popular culture for his painting "The Scream," Munch explored through paintings and prints the turbulent emotional landscapes of modern life and the anguished silence of the individual. Munch was also an experimental print-maker of astonishing daring and virtuosity. Far from being secondary to his paintings, Munch's graphic works are among his most forceful images. This exhibition, drawn from the encyclopedic collections of The Museum of Modern Art, examines the major themes in Munch's art as expressed in graphic media, principally lithographs and woodcuts. After a century the prints have lost none of their raw power to move us. They provoke questions—about life, death, love, sex, what it means to be human—questions that can never be answered but are still worth asking. East Building: Meymandi Exhibition Gallery, Oct. 21 - Jan. 13, 2013 - "Still-Life Masterpieces: A Visual Feast from the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston," features works by Renoir, Cézanne, Matisse, O'Keeffe, and more. The NC Museum of Art will present a stunning 400-year survey of more than 70 still-life paintings and decorative arts. The only US venue for the exhibition, the NCMA will showcase memorable works by European and American masters like Pierre-Auguste Renoir, Paul Cézanne, Henri Matisse, and Georgia O'Keeffe, together with fanciful decorative arts that draw inspiration from the natural world. Julian T. Baker Jr. Gallery, Through Dec. 2 - "A Discerning Eye: Julian T. Baker Jr. Photography Collection". Julian T. Baker Jr. (1939-2011), a longtime friend and supporter of the North Carolina Museum of Art and a North Carolina native born in Raleigh, started collecting photography in the mid-1990s, and a casual interest soon turned into a passion that resulted in a personal collection of over 700 photographs. Focusing primarily on black-and-white images, and ranging in date from the early 20th century to the present day, Baker's collection features some of the most important photographers of the 20th century. This gift of 25 photographs significantly expands the
