Editorial COMMENTARY

by Tom Starland, Editor and Publisher

Dancing With The "C" Word

Unfortunately for my wife Linda, my better half, I'm one of those typical American males, who goes by the attitude - "If it ain't broke, don't fix it".

So over the years if something came up with my body, some issue of concern, I would wait it out to see if it wouldn't fix itself or just go away. There also was the issue of money. Insurance is expensive, and if you use it for anything - they tag you with a pre-condition.

My last physical was given to me for free by Uncle Sam in 1972 when I was called to go to Detroit, MI, for my draft physical. Uncle Sam was looking for some new bodies to send to Vietnam.

I did not support the war in Vietnam. I resisted it and I protested it. And when we finally got our men and women out of Vietnam - I did not spit on those who were lucky enough to return. I thank any service man or woman who has ever served and will always do so respectfully. I just don't like the wars our politicians keep dragging us into.

So from my 1972 draft physical I knew I had high blood pressure. That's it. But I never did anything about it.

A few years back, I had a sinus infection that just wasn't letting go of me. I wasn't getting much sleep, so I agreed to go to one of our local Doc in a Boxes. Guess what? I still had high blood pressure and the DR. who treated me for the sinus infection wouldn't let me leave without some pills for high blood pressure.

That was the beginning of the end of my health ignorance. Before I knew it I was in our country's vast health system. My blood pressure is almost normal - helped by a stack of pills I have to take everyday - for the rest of my life. I'm also on Medicare now.

So one day the Dr. asked when was my last colonoscopy? I said never. I knew what it was and had helped Linda through a few. I wasn't a big fan.

I agreed to take the "discharge in a box" route first - something you did at home. But, soon I got the call from the Dr. that indicated I needed to do the real deal. So I gave in. The first one was done in July of this year. And when they were finished with me that Dr. told me it looks good - they removed a few polyps.

I few weeks later that Dr. called me telling me he wanted to take a second look - he just might have missed something and in a few months we'll do it again. Oh boy - double the fun all in a few months' time. And when I got the call it was not what I wanted to hear. They found cancer - that damn "C" word no one wants to hear and he was putting me in touch with a surgeon.

After meeting with the surgeon I felt a lot better, as within six months I would be going from a person who has cancer to someone who is cancer free. He was just going to cut it out and toss it out of my life. No follow ups with chemo treatments or anything - except the recovery from the surgery.

The surgery went well and I spent about a week in the hospital and then came home to a deadline to finish the Jan. 2018 issue of Carolina Arts, and did I say it was Christmas too?

The grandboys were glad to see me home, and poor Linda had to replace a hospital staff of dozens of people taking care of my every need.

If you're reading this on Jan. 1, 2018 - we got the job done. There were some shortcuts taken like no images in the Gallery Listings, but this issue represents everything we received by deadline.

So, by the next issue I hope to be doing it in my sleep like before the "C" word came to me. I'm a pretty lucky guy that this was caught early and didn't take much to recover, but in no way do I want to take away from those who might not be so lucky.

Early detection is the key to good health. Don't be an old fart like me. Visit a doctor today.

Charleston Artist Guild in Charleston, SC, Features Works by Sonny Dugal

The Charleston Artist Guild in Charleston, SC, will present Elsewhere, a collection of new photography by Sonny Dugal, on view in the Guild Gallery, from Jan. 1 - 31, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 5, from 5-8pm.

Work by Sonny Dugal

Dugal is a fine art and travel photographer living in Mount Pleasant, SC. An active member of the Mount Pleasant and Charleston Artist Guilds, his work has won several awards over the last 30 years. Born and brought up in Burma and India, Dugal moved to the Charleston area in 1980. He has been involved in the decorative arts for more than three decades, and travels extensively. His passion for uncommon perspectives and abstract vision is revealed in his photography.

The artist states, "Elsewhere is a current compilation of images evoking place and time. All my life I have felt that we are all part of a larger continuum, and I need to share this with you. Windows and reflections help me to connect, contours and shadows stretch my outlook, I seek a thousand words in the photos I create to communicate with you."

Sales made at the gallery support the nonprofit Guild's community outreach work.

PRESTON FOR PROGRESS

"I am Joe Preston. I am a 38 year old husband, adoptive father of 2, former firefighter, and concerned citizen.

I am a Democrat running for the South Carolina House of Representatives District 112.

Under current leadership, our state is failing. We fail when it comes to education, road infrastructure, opportunity, safety, and crime.

Corruption has become regular order at the statehouse.

I am running because this situation can no longer be tolerated and real change is needed."

Fabulon in Charleston, SC, Tells Love Story Through Art

Fabulon, A Center for Art and Education, located in the West Ashley area of Charleston, SC, will present its third annual Not Your Typical Love Story Show, on view from Jan. 23 through Mar. 1, 2018. A reception will be held on Feb. 10, from 5-8pm.

With the bells of the New Year still echoing in our ears, we will soon be confronted with hearts, candy, and the trappings of modern day Valentine's Day.

Each year at this time we put out a call for our Not Your Typical Love Story Show. It started two years ago as a quest to battle commercialism, materialism, over consumption and narrow-minded views. We had the idea to show art that illustrated the many facets of love, a truer vision of Saint Valentine's mission, and spread some empathy.

With so much news of injustice, incivility, instability, and insecurity, it is hard to imagine thoughts of love. Or that love could be a remedy. We thought of cancelling the show. And then we realized that this year, "what the world needs now is love, sweet love." We'd love to invite you to share how artists nationwide interpret the meaning of love in this third annual Not Your Typical Love Story Show.

Fabulon is West Ashley's center for art and education. This is a place for people of

Gaffney Visitors Center in Gaffney, SC, Offers African American Exhibit

The Gaffney Visitors Center in Gaffney, SC, will present Eight Southern African-American Artists: Past, Present, Future, on view at the Gaffney Visitors Center and Art Gallery, from Jan. 15 through Feb. 23, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 21, from 3-5pm.

The January-February exhibit celebrating Black History Month includes artists both southern born and ones who have made the south their home. The artists include Liani Foster, Pat Kabore, Shanequa Gay, Ludovic Nkoth, Antonia Modesto, and Tracey Timmons. Additionally, two Cherokee County artists who have passed away, brother and sister Leroy Marshall and Inez Littlejohn, are remembered in this exhibit.

Eight Southern African-American Artists is presented by the Cherokee Alliance of Visual Artists (CAVA), the art organization that operates the gallery in the visitors' center. According to president Noah Lindemann, CAVA enjoys being able to present exhibits that relate to the community and to special events during the calendar year.

The exhibit includes both established artists included in major collections and emerging artists. Those who are local contribute to the cultural life of the upstate and help to foster a climate for the visual arts. Several are members of the Artists' Guild of Spartanburg and/or Spartanburg's Main Street Co-Op.

Each artist will be represented by five to seven pieces. All works are fairly recent reflecting the artist's current interests. Visitors will be able to view paintings, jewelry, mixed-media works, fibers, and prints.

Self taught "folk artist" from Gaffney, Leroy Marshall died in 1988. A major exhibit in the 1980's introduced his work to the public and established his reputation. Although a paraplegic, he conducted workshops in area schools. His innovative mixed-media paintings are included in private and public collections including the South Carolina State Art Collection.

Marshall's sister, Inez Littlejohn, who was also self-taught, died in 2011. According to her husband, there was never a time when she was not involved with art making. Her works depict life around her as she experienced it. Her mixed-media works are visually complex, well designed, and decorative. The exhibits committee was interested to learn that Littlejohn sometimes completed subjects in Marshall's works that he felt uncomfortable doing.

Liani Foster originally hails from Ohio; he recently moved from Washington, DC, to Lake Lure, NC. He incorporates fibers in usual ways but also plans to include at least one large wood sculpture that conjures an earlier time period and place. His work was brought to the attention of CAVA's exhibit committee last year during Gaffney's annual Peach Festival juried exhibit.

Having lived in West Africa, Pat Kabore currently resides in Pacolet, SC. Included in Hub City's recent book, Artists among Us, Kabore has an extensive exhibition and teaching record. Primarily a printmaker and mixed-media artist, she said, "I want my art to build bridges and connections between cultures and people."

Georgia resident Shanequa Gay presented a large exhibit of her works recently at Wofford College. That exhibit introduced her work to CAVA members. Using a painterly approach, she explores historical and contemporary social concerns of black culture. Gay provocatively introduces collage elements that are interesting both for their content and aesthetics.

dovic Nkoth is one of the area's upcoming artists. He studied art at USC Upstate. Although his paintings for this exhibit are based on portraits of the old masters, his style is also reminiscent of Francis Bacon. Nonetheless, his works are truly innovative. Framed to reflect the earlier period, visitors should enjoy the paintings' Baroque-inspired reference.

New York City transplant, Antonia Modesto, is a painter and photographer living in Lyman. An emerging artist, his painting style is reminiscent of the bright, flat colors to the Pop Art era and the colorful patterns of the Latino world from which he is descended. He plans to include a selection of digital prints as well as paintings for this show.

Tracey Timmons has lived in the South a long time but was born and raised in Ohio. She is a self-taught metalsmith and studio jeweler working with precious metals and semi-precious gemstones. She plans to include a series of ginkgo leaf inspired pieces. The exhibits committee is pleased to be able to include a three-dimensional artist in this group.

USC Upstate in Spartanburg, SC, Features Works by Herb Parker

The UPSTATE Gallery on Main, run by USC Upstate in Spartanburg, SC, in celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the SC Arts Commission, presents Southern Gothic, a sculptural installation by Charleston artist and SC Arts Commission fellow Herb Parker. The exhibition opens Jan. 12 and runs through Mar. 24, 2018. An artist's reception will be held from 5-8pm, on Jan. 18, during Spartanburg ArtWalk.

In Southern Gothic, Parker explores the nuances and incongruities of modern life through the conjoining of hand-crafted and found objects, which are used to create an assemblage-inspired installation. Surreal and often macabre, Parker's highly topical works are imbued with a sense of his own history, culture, and philosophies.

Temple, among many others. Parker has also received grants and fellowships from numerous organizations, including the National Endowment for the Arts, Southern Arts Federation, and the South Carolina Arts Commission. Since 1983, he has created over 60 site-specific installations.

This exhibition is supported by the South Carolina Arts Commission, South Carolina Arts Foundation and First Citizens Bank.

The UPSTATE Gallery on Main located on E. Main Street in Spartanburg, is a dedicated art exhibition space that features a rotating schedule of regional and national artists' work. The gallery also houses and periodically displays the University's permanent art collection, including works by Andy Warhol, Jerry Uelsmann, Jack Tworikov, and Beatrice Riese. The gallery is primarily staffed by students as part of an ongoing internship program through which they learn how to display, research and promote the work on exhibit in the gallery.

Work by Herb Parker

"This work reflects the insecurities, fears and exhilarations of life and has evolved into a discourse on the dichotomies that make life challenging and rewarding," Parker said. "It is occasionally grotesque with elements of a fatalistic romanticism and dark humor that serves as an absurdist social critique."

Originally from Elizabeth City, NC, Parker earned his MFA in sculpture from East Carolina University and currently teaches at the College of Charleston. Parker has completed artist residencies at the Center for Contemporary Art, ArtPark, Quartz Mountain Nature Park, and Kotakiji

West Main Artists Co-op in Spartanburg, SC, Features Works by Ludovic Nkoth

West Main Artists Co-op in Spartanburg, SC, will present Roots, featuring works by Ludovic Nkoth, which explores his African heritage, on view from Jan. 3 - 28, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 18, from 5:30-8:30pm, during the city's monthly ArtWalk.

"My journey began in Cameroon, West Africa, where I was born in October of 1994," Nkoth said. "The vibrant cities inspired me at an early age so much so that I spent much of my time there filling sketch-books. My work explores the relationship between the body and urban spaces. With influences as diverse as Picasso, Dali, and Andy Warhol, new tensions are crafted from both opaque and transparent layers infused with rich textures and colors."

"Ever since I was a pre-adolescent I have been fascinated by the essential unreality of the moment," added Nkoth. "What starts out as vision soon becomes corrupted into a dialectic of greed, leaving only a sense of chaos and the prospect of a new understanding. As momentary replicas become distorted through frantic and critical practice, the viewer is left with an epitaph for the edges of our condition. In these new works, I want the viewer to feel at home while in an unfamiliar environment, reaching new levels of understanding art works that makes no sense to the naked eye."

About 14 pieces of art will be in the month-long exhibit, and most of it will be very colorful and abstract images of people on textured backgrounds. His painting style often uses many different bright colors combined with dark shadows to achieve a sense of isolated diversity. His style consists of depicting energy and emotion through color choices; creating expressive art, to stimulate the viewer's mind, compelling him/her to interact with the piece. The larger works (48 by 60 inches) sell for $3,000, and the smaller pieces (30 by 40 inches) sell for $1,000. A series of masks (12 by 22 inches) will sell for $200 each.

Nkoth received his bachelor's degree in art education/art history in 2017 from the University of South Carolina Upstate. Among his awards are the 2014 Scholastic National Award and top prize in the University's art competition in 2015. His work has

Furman University in Greenville, SC, Offers Works by Taryn McMahon

Furman University in Greenville, SC, will present Vanishing Points, featuring prints by Kent State University School of Art professor Taryn McMahon, on view in the Thompson Gallery, from Jan. 15 through Feb. 15, 2018. A reception will be held on Feb. 15, from 6-7:30pm.

The exhibition includes an installation of eight large-scale printed banners created specifically for Thompson Gallery. Twelve additional works on paper will also be on view.

In an artist statement, McMahon says, “Vanishing Points is an exhibition of recent work that investigates our relationship to the natural world through print media and installation. I use images from botanical gardens to investigate ways these spaces project our own desires and fantasies of the natural world and our place within it. I blend digital and hand drawn print processes to further explore how our interactions with the natural world are mediated through technology, and are thus fragmented and selective. Through my work, I imagine a future ecology in which technology and reality are collapsed into each other and the natural and the man-made have become intertwined and indistinguishable in the face of unprecedented ecological change.”

McMahon received her BFA from The Pennsylvania State University, and an MA

RIVERWORKS Gallery in Greenville, SC, will present 23 Awards, featuring works from the 2017 Department of Visual Art Annual Student Exhibition, held at Greenville Technical College, from Jan. 26 through Feb. 25, 2018. A reception will be held on Feb. 2, from 6-9pm.

23 Awards is an exhibition of the award winners from 2017 DVA Annual Student Exhibition marks the culmination of a year of studio work by recognizing the best works created by Greenville Technical College’s visual and applied art students. More than 150 entries were submitted by current Visual Arts’ students.

Award donations totaling $1,750 were shared among the award winners, with $250 going to Best in Show, Alexander Hadaway’s drawing, Ladders. The exhibition represents the many courses of study offered by the Department of Visual Arts with entries submitted in 7 categories including photography, graphic design, sculpture, painting, drawing, and design and color.

According to Shane Howell, Head of the Department of Visual Arts, “23 Awards encourages our students and provides them a professional venue to celebrate their talents. 23 Awards also offers the public the opportunity to enjoy the best of the best from Greenville Technical College’s Department of Visual Arts.”

Howell continues, “A particular thank you to Katya Cohen for serving as juror for the 2017 DVA Annual Student Exhibition. Cohen, an accomplished printmaker and painter, with a MFA from the University of Georgia has taught at Clemson,

Art & Light Gallery in Greenville, SC, Features Works by Artists From Charleston Gallery

Art & Light Gallery in Greenville, SC, will present Miller at Art & Light, featuring works by artists represented by Miller Gallery in Charleston, SC, on view from Jan. 19 through Feb. 11, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 19, from 6-8pm.

One of Charleston, SC's most exciting contemporary galleries will be collaborating with Greenville's Art & Light gallery this January.

Miller Gallery, whose home base is in the historic French Quarter of downtown Charleston, will bring 10 of their artists and artisans to the upstate for a pop-up exhibit at Art & Light.

Miller Gallery represents American and international artists with a focus on exploratory, contemporary fine art. Throughout the exhibition at Art & Light, patrons will experience a glimpse of the bright, innovative artists and artisans represented at Miller Gallery.

The three week exhibit will celebrate a variety of artistic styles and mediums including: figurative work by Laura Dargan; masterfully balanced abstracts by Dixie Purvis and Teresa Roche; ethereal resin and watercolor paintings by Marina Dunbar; hand-forged metalworks by blacksmith JP Shepard; deconstructed landscapes accented in 24k gold leaf by Kate Hooray Osmond; sophisticated, cultural commentary paintings by Charlotte Filbert; mixed-media collages and abstracts by Miles Purvis, and more.

Greenville Technical College Presents Photographic Exhibit at Its Benson Campus Galleries in Taylors, SC

Greenville Technical College will present Southern Icons, A to Z, on view from Jan. 8 through Feb. 23, 2018.

Southern Icons, A to Z is an exhibition of photographs each accompanied by a written response. The exhibit was conceived and curated by Rob McDonald, Donna Rosser, and Meryl Truett of SlowExposures. The exhibition presents images from 2017 in the form of the medieval abecedar.

The abecedar has morphed into our contemporary ABC books for pre-school children. According to McDonald, Rosser, and Truett, "This collection is intended to propose a visual catalogue of the contemporary South as it is being lived and experienced in the second decade of the twenty-first century. Twenty-six photographers were invited to contribute images in response to a list of "icons" of Southernness, with instructions to avoid, at all cost, the cliché or stereotype in favor of presenting a fresh insight into a given aspect of the region... The exhibition might be said to function as a primer to show in pictures what we talk about when we talk about the South."

Southern Icons, A to Z is a unique collection of contemporary images of curator-prescribed Southern icons by Southern photographers from several generations. After the photographs were created, Dean has travelled as a Fulbright-Nehru Scholar to India and cites other notable artist residencies include the M.J. Wood Artist-in-Residence at Red Lodge (Mont.) Clay Center and being a Connecticut Artist Fellowship Grant recipient.

Dean states her work shows “[t]he visual and historical synthesis of quilts, cotton trade, and vast realm of textiles, inform and shape my ideas, concepts and approach to the spectrum of ceramic material. Experimentation in glaze chemistry is a primary focus of my studio practice. Color and color relationships are central in my work. My objective is to develop, accumulate and employ a diverse range of glazes, as well as various clay bodies and colored slips, allowing me to create color dynamics that embody the myriad of visual elements, qualities and categories of quilts I have surveyed.”

“It is intentional that the individual tiles are not repeated,” continues Dean. “I mix and compose the different tiles to express the various visual modes, traditions and language of quilts and greater realm of textiles. Adaptation, resourcefulness, survival and triumph, are what I appreciate when I consider the fullness of these quilts, their makers and the history from which they emerge. Cotton, the commodity at the center of my ancestry, by way of its production and trade, lead me to the global history, trade and impact of textiles.”

“Encountering these various cultures and time periods have influenced my work. Each unique tile within the quilts I create, are informed by and reflect the combined and diverse visual history of quilting and textiles. Also the tiles symbolize the contrasting events and lives of those who sewed and stitched more than quilts; those who stitched and sewed a resolute history and legacy that has gifted freedom, personhood and rich visual language. It is this history to which I am indebted, inspiring me as an artist. I strive to sustain and honor the gifts of my personal and collective history embed in the visual chronicles of quilts, textiles and lives,” adds Dean.

"DIRECT EXPERIENCE: cancer and art" offers visceral visual evidence that in creating, these 14 artists find an uplifting sense of peace. That in creating, they traverse through diagnosis, treatment, and healing with a positive attitude. That in expressing their feelings, the journey becomes a meaningful experience. While the mediums differ, they all share the direct experience of being a cancer patient. And then a cancer survivor.

University of South Carolina in Columbia, SC, Features Works by Naomi J. Falk in T/here

The University of South Carolina in Columbia, SC, will present T/here, a solo exhibition by artist Naomi J. Falk, on view in the McMaster Gallery, at the School of Visual Art and Design, from Jan. 11 through Feb. 22, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 18, from 5-7pm, with a gallery talk at 6pm.

Naomi J. Falk grew up in the wilds of Michigan and, from an early age, planned to be an archaeologist, a brain surgeon, a heart surgeon, a meteorologist, and travel the world with Jacques Cousteau. None of those worked out, but she did learn to scuba dive, studied sculpture and ceramics at Michigan State and Portland State Universities, and received an MFA from Carnegie Mellon University. She has exhibited regionally and nationally, and done residencies in Germany, Iceland, upstate New York, Nebraska, Vermont, and most recently with The Clipperton Project in the Faroe Islands. In Fall 2016, Falk joined the School of Visual Art & Design at the University of South Carolina as an Assistant Professor of Sculpture.

Falk’s work ruminates on our relationships and collaborations with the manufactured and natural landscapes we inhabit. They contemplate the struggles and connections we have with each other and the need to find a place to call our own. Falk continues, “In the current climate, politically and environmentally, how do we find balance between staked territory and collective community? What measures do we take to feel safe? How do we negotiate this world of physical and psychological borders? How do we find our place? Home travels within and without.”

Queens University of Charlotte in Charlotte, NC, will present ARTE LATINO NOW 2018, on view in the Max L. Jackson Gallery, from Jan. 17 through Feb. 17, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 17, from 5-7pm. After the reception, the college offers Tertulia literaria (readings in Spanish by selected writers) in the Watkins Building at 7pm.

Sponsored by The Center for Latino Studies at Queens University of Charlotte in partnership with Queens’ Departments of Art and World Languages, Art Sí and artist Edwin Gil, ARTE LATINO NOW 2018 seeks to highlight the exciting cultural and artistic contributions of Latinos in the United States. We invite artists who self-define as Latino and live and work in the United States to submit an original creative work in their medium of choice. Categories considered include New Media, Visual Arts, Performing Arts (including dance, theater, and music) and Creative Writing. Queens has been pleased to support this event for the last seven years and is excited that entries have increasingly been submitted from across the United States.

This exhibition features the works of Latino artists selected through a national competition and will include works by visual artists Tina Alberni, Citlali Aguirre, Luis Ardila, Helier Batista, Marisa Cerban, Héctor Del Campo, Rebeca Carvajal, Edith Covarrubias, Leonor Demori, Felisa Federman, Catalina Gómez-Beuth, Michael Irizarry-Pagan, Beatriz Ledesma, Ernesto

South's and one of the United States' most compelling stories. Latino and Latin American migration to the South has dramatically changed the region's workforce, economy, culture, politics and everyday life.

Among other efforts, the Center for Latino Studies at Queens University of Charlotte has collected more than 100 oral histories that highlight the personal stories of individual Latino immigrants. We are in the process of establishing a method to make these oral histories available to researchers. The Center is also developing embedded research in classes to create a greater awareness of Latino artists, musicians and writers in the US by providing increased visibility on a national level, and multiple Queens faculty have increased participation in Charlotte area initiatives supporting the Latino community.

Dr. Michele Shaul, the Director of the Center for Latino Studies, co-founded and co-edits in collaboration with Dr. Kathryn Quinn-Sánchez of Georgian Court University the literary journal "Label Me Latina/o" (www.labelmelatinao.com). "Label Me Latina/o" is an online, refereed international e-journal that focuses on Latino Literary Production in the United States in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. The journal invites scholarly essays focusing on these writers for its biannual publication.

"Label Me Latina/o" also publishes creative literary pieces whose authors self-define as Latina or Latino regardless of thematic content. Interviews of Latino or Latina authors will also be considered. "Label Me Latina/o" is indexed by the MLA International Bibliography, is listed in the MLA Directory of Periodicals and is a member of Latinoamericana: Asociación de revistas académicas en Humanidades y Ciencias Sociales. Our articles are discoverable on EBSCOhost research databases (ISSN 2333-4584).

The projects undertaken by the Center for Latino Studies seek to tell the story of the Latino presence in the greater Charlotte area and, in some cases nationally, not only recording history and culture, but also opening dialogue between people about the future of the community in which we live. Such dialogue will encourage creative and cooperative solutions to problems and create a more humane and generous community.

Davidson College in Davidson, NC, Offers Work by Jen Ray & Arthur Jafa

Davidson College in Davidson, NC, will present Surrounded by Wolves, featuring works by Jen Ray, and Love is The Message, The Message is Death, featuring works by Arthur Jafa, on view at the Van Every/Smith Galleries, from Jan. 25 through Mar. 3, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 25, from 7-8:30pm, with a performance orchestrated by Jen Ray at 7:30pm. The Galleries will host a second performance at The Mint Museum, 5th Floor, with Jen Ray on February 7 at 7pm.

In Surrounded by Wolves, Ray explores female rebellion and the shifting nature of a woman's identity, including what it means to be a feminist in the South. Large-scale watercolor paintings and sculptural works are juxtaposed by a new large-scale installation examining the life of circus performer Pat Cuneo.

Ray was born in Raleigh, NC, grew up in South Carolina, and currently resides in NY. Her work has been exhibited internationally at such venues as the Kasseler Kunstverein, Germany, Kunsthall KAdE, Netherlands, and the Petit Palais, France as well as venues in New York and Los Angeles. She is represented by Wentrup Gallery, Berlin, Germany, and albertz benda gallery, New York.

On view in the Smith Gallery, and shown for the first time in the Southeast, is Arthur Jafa's critical video installation Love is The Message, The Message is Death. Jafa creates moving works of power and beauty using charged, found video clips, to reflect on black representation in mainstream media. Although only 7 minutes in length, the video installation, set to Kanye West's stirring, gospel-inspired song "Ultralight Beam," presents glimpses into the joys and traumas of black life in the United States, which the artist sees as both beautiful and painful.

Artist, filmmaker, cinematographer, TNEG (motion picture studio) co-founder, Jafa was born in Tupelo, Mississippi and currently lives in Los Angeles. Renowned for his cinematography Jafa was the director of photography on Spike Lee's Crooklyn (1994), Isaac Julien's Darker Shade of Black (1994), A Litany for Survival (1995), Ada Gay Griffin and Michelle Parkerson's biographical film on the late Audre Lorde, John Akomfrah's Seven Songs for Malcolm X (1993), a cinematographer for Stanley Kubrick's Eyes Wide Shut (1999), Manthia Diawara's Rough in Reverse (2000), Neferite Nguvu's In the Morning (2014), shot second unit on Ava DuVernay's Selma (2014) and was the director of photography for Solange's music videos Don't Touch My Hair and Cranes in the Sky (both 2016). In 2017, along with TNEG, Jafa conceived, shot and edited the music video for JAY-Z's 4:44, the title track from his newest album.

Jafa's gallery work has been widely exhibited at Artists Space, New York, NY; Whitney Museum of American Art, New York, NY; CCAC Institute, Oakland, CA Westaelischer Kunstvein, Münster, Germany; ARTPACE, San Antonio, TX; The Institute of Contemporary Art, Philadelphia, PA; The Hammer Museum of Art, Los Angeles, CA; Gavin Brown's enterprise, New York, NY; and The Los Angeles Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles, CA to name a few.

Black Mountain College Museum + Arts Center in Asheville, NC, Offers Works by Gerald van de Wiele

Black Mountain College Museum + Arts Center in Asheville, NC, will present Gerald van de Wiele: Variations / Seven Decades of Painting, on view from Jan. 19 through May 19, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 19, from 5:30-8pm, with a gallery talk at 6:15pm. A Public Discussion with the artist and the curator will be offered on Jan. 20, beginning at 2pm.

"For over seven decades of my life - variations in paint and subject. All of it is important to me, and I hope, gives evidence of the reverence I feel for the history of art - near and distant. A re-imagining of images in a fresh light is my intention and passion," said Gerald van de Wiele, in 2017.

Organized by guest curator Jason Andrew, this retrospective features a survey of paintings, sculptures, drawings, ink sketches, and watercolors from every period of the artist's seven-decade career. Highlights include Wells Street (1956), a major painting that van de Wiele began at Black Mountain College; Castelli (1962), a work from his first solo exhibition in New York City at the Leo Castelli Gallery; and Chapala (2017) the most recent painting that references a 1951 trip to Mexico and reflects the artist's profound contemporary vision of nature.

As curator Jason Andrew states, "This historic retrospective captures seven decades of art by Black Mountain College alumnus (1954-56) Gerald van de Wiele in an exhibition that highlights the artist's distinctive calibration of color and line while tapping the pulse-rhythm of the natural world." The artist will be present at the opening reception (5:30 - 8pm) on Jan. 19th and will give a gallery talk at 6:15pm.

On Saturday, Jan. 20th, exhibition curator Jason Andrew and Gerald van de Wiele will have a public conversation about the artist's life and work at 2pm.

Gerald van de Wiele was born in 1932 and raised in Detroit. He attended Cass Technical High School when one day, a recent grad by the name of Ray Johnson visited his class "singing the praises of a place called Black Mountain College." At the time of van de Wiele's arrival in September of 1954, the faculty at BMC featured poet Charles Olson, writer/director Wes Huss, painter Joe Fiore, and composer Stefan Wolpe. Although there were a range of visiting artists coming to the campus including writer Robert Duncan and poet Robert Creeley (who van de Wiele punched out in a love tryst over student Martha Davis), the student body consisted of only a handful of students that came and went including Fielding Dawson, Jorge Fick, Joel Oppenheimer, Dan Rice, Ann Simone, Naomi and Mona Stea, and Jonathan Williams.

At BMC, van de Wiele grew close to artist Joe Fiore and poet Charles Olson who in 1956 composed and dedicated "Variations Done for Gerald van de Wiele." van de Wiele told Martin Duberman in 1968: "I don't believe I ever in my life felt that I belonged any place as much as I felt I belonged at that school. I loved that place." His work from this period ranged from quick portrait studies to fully realized gestural works in paint. In late spring of 1956 van de Wiele left BMC; the college closed later that year.

van de Wiele had his first solo show at Chicago's Wells Street Gallery in October 1957, and in November of the same year, his work was selected by guest jurors Franz Kline, Philip Guston and Sam Hunter to be included in the Chicago annual exhibition Momentum. By late 1959 van de Wiele, had moved to New York City. Seeking to establish himself, he walked into the Leo Castelli Gallery. That introduction led to part-time work and later, his first solo show in New York City at the gallery.

In 1963, van de Wiele was included in a group exhibition of drawings that included works by Lee Bontecou, Nassis Daphis, Jasper Johns, Roy Lichtenstein, Robert Moskowitz, Robert Rauschenberg, Frank Stella, and Jack Tworkov. With the rise of Pop-Art, and van de Wiele's own move away from abstraction towards more representational pursuits, the artist left Leo Castelli for the Peridot Gallery, exhibiting there on and off until the mid-70s. He continued to support himself and his family of five children working odd jobs including as a framer at Dain and Schiff.

Although van de Wiele's work slipped out of circulation from the mainstream comings-and-goings of the New York art world, his connections to artists, poets, and composers remained true. A color-rich

More recently a selection of his early drawings was included in Leap Before You Look: Black Mountain College 1933-1957, the first comprehensive exhibition featuring the artists of BMC to tour the United States. Asheville Gallery of Art in Asheville, NC, Offers Group Exhibit by Member Artists

The Asheville Gallery of Art in Asheville, NC, will present Winter Blues, featuring the work of its 23 member artists, on view from Jan. 1 - 31, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 5, from 5-8pm.

What better way to brighten the cold and gray January days than by enjoying a display of great art? Each piece will be an interpretation of the artist's winter experience. Work will range from serene, snowy landscapes to abstracts in colors calculated to warm and cheer you as you wait for spring.

"Our artists enjoy participating in themed shows," says member Jane Molinelli. "Every artist I know can almost instantly come up with dozens of different angles on how to interpret a given idea. You never know what will be in the show until it's time to hang it, and that makes it as exciting to create as to see."

The pieces for the show, as well as the work of all 31 gallery members, will be on display and for sale through the month of January.

Woolworth Walk in Asheville, NC, Features Works by Marilyn Sholin

Woolworth Walk in Asheville, NC, will present an exhibit of works by Marilyn Sholin, on view in the FW Gallery, from Jan. 2 - 30, 2018. A reception will be held on Jan. 5, from 4-6pm.

Sholin is an internationally known artist, author and educator. She creates paintings about the artistry of the spirits from beer to martinis, wine and more. She added coffee into her mix of art because it only made sense to include it.

Sholin moved from Miami to Asheville and has never looked back. Her 25 years as an award-winning portrait photographer took a turn to painting in the 90's and developed into a passion for mixed media.

Her original mixed media incorporate a long process of multiple photo references which she synthesizes into one image and digitally paints. That is printed on high quality canvas and then enhanced with acrylic paints and mediums, dyes, pigments, and a variety of other materials. This method creates many layers of textures to each painting. The fine art paintings are then converted to a final digital file that can be printed as giclée canvas, fine art paper and dye infused metals, and other substrates for collectors. Color and energy run through every Sholin painting. She brings inanimate objects to life with their shapes, colors, and textures.

Sholin lives full time in Asheville and is owned by way too many cats.

Southwestern Community College in Sylva, NC, Features Works by Teri Leigh Teed

Southwestern Community College in Sylva, NC, is presenting Season of Light, featuring works by Teri Leigh Teed, on view in the Burrell Center Gallery, through Jan. 31, 2018.

The exhibition is Teed's newest series of fine art photographs taken in the Nantahala Forest from the morning of the Autumn Equinox and leading up to Thanksgiving. Her photographs are accompanied by stories and poetry written by Teed that reflect on the physical and spiritual light of the season.

Teed's fine art photograph, "Light of Peace" is part of her exhibit, which focuses on the mystical qualities of light and Nature.

A native of Columbia, SC, Teed is a multi-dimensional, award winning artist based in the Blue Ridge Mountains of western North Carolina near Sylva. Along with her visual artwork, Teed is also a songwriter of folk music and the author of "Seasons of the South, the Original Homegrown and Musical Storytelling Show", which raises awareness for regenerative agriculture.

"Healing Spirit Art©" has been the name of Teed's artwork since 2005. She blends fine art nature and landscape photography, stories, poetry, and songs with positive, inspirational and healing thoughts and energies. Her logo features a mountain laurel branch, which represents her love for the western North Carolina mountains she calls home.

A graduate of Sotheby's Institute, London, Teed received her MA in Decorative Arts and Historic Interiors from the University of Buckingham, England and was

UNC at Greensboro, NC, Offers Two New Exhibitions

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, in Greensboro, NC, will present two new exhibits including: Sanford Biggers: Falk Visiting Artist, on view in Weatherspoon Art Museum's The Leah Louise B. Tannenbaum Gallery and The Louise D. and Herbert S. Falk, Sr. Gallery, through Apr. 8, 2018, and Baggage Claims, a group exhibit, on view in the Museum's The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, from Jan. 27 through Apr. 22, 2018.

Multimedia artist Sanford Biggers creates artworks that intentionally complicate our understandings of history, culture, and identity. His densely layered paintings on antique southern quilts combine imagery from such disparate sources as Buddhism, graffiti, and harmonics. Linked by themes of navigation, these motifs simultaneously recall stories of quilts being used as markers on the Underground Railroad and star charts employed by astronomers. At once visually beautiful and conceptually rich, they pose important questions about how history informs the present and how all humans—regardless of context—try to make their way in a complicated world.

Biggers holds a BA from Morehouse College in Atlanta and an MFA from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Biggers currently serves as Assistant Professor at Columbia University's Visual Arts program in New York City and was recently awarded the 2017-18 Rome Prize.

This exhibition is organized by Dr. Emily Stamey, Curator of Exhibitions.

The show is presented in collaboration with the University of North Carolina at Greensboro's School of Art as part of the Falk Visiting Artist program and with provocative ideas about the mobility of global culture. These ideas often refer to the humanitarian, economic, and political concerns of populations that are compelled to flee conflicts and hardship or to seek opportunities far from home.

On an intimate level, baggage transports and holds personal belongings, and by implication, is a rich metaphor for individual and family histories. The term baggage also carries significant psychological meaning, referring to the burdens or blessings of those things in life that cannot be left behind.

Baggage Claims is the first exhibition to present a new body of work by contemporary artists who are examining these timely themes.

This exhibition is organized by the Orlando Museum of Art and co-curated by curators, Ginger Gregg Duggan and Judith Hoos Fox, of c2-curatorsquared.

Francis Marion University in Florence, SC, Features Works by Elaine Quave and Neva Campbell

Ceramic sculptures by Greenville artist Elaine Quave and paintings by Myrtle Beach artist Neva Campbell will be on view in the Adele Kassab Gallery in the Hyman Fine Arts Center at Francis Marion University from Jan. 9 through Feb. 15, 2018. A reception will held on Jan. 12, from 6-8pm.

Both Quave and Campbell explore the natural world and our place within that world.

Quave states: "My ceramic sculptures evoke a garden, one reminiscent of a bleached coral reef in which the reflection of our own human nature is both terrifying and beautiful at the same time. Porcelain bones are arranged to resemble plants, each implying their own unique stories of our personal interactions with them."

Work by Elaine Quave

Campbell's series of works include insects, bones, sea creatures, and the human figure. She describes herself as "a modern impressionist using bright colors to convey emotional light and density" she finds inspiration in the South's dark history,

Wang is an artist renowned for her ability to capture the radiance of nature in her exuberant expressionist painting where color and the touch of her paint brush infuse a sense of radiant vitality. Throughout the human history, virtually every culture has worshiped or honored the Sun. It is the artist's wish is to remind us today again of our everlasting quest to celebrate life and protect nature with our glorious and radiant sun.

With many exhibitions to her credit, Wang has been an exhibiting painter since her 1985 exhibit at the Gallery 91 Show, Soho, New York and most recently Shen Chang Art Gallery, Hangzhou, China in 2015. She has won numerous awards for her painting, most notably the Featured Artist Vistas Award in 2004 and 2005 at the NC Museum of Natural Sciences in Raleigh.

While always involved in her creative expressionist painting, since the 80's she has worked corporately as a designer and marketer for Sony Ericsson, Family Health International and Black and Decker. Most

Dare County Arts Council in Manteo, NC, Presents Annual Frank Stick Memorial Art Show

The longest running visual arts exhibit in Dare County, the Frank Stick Memorial Art Show, will open at Dare County Arts Council for its 40th year on Jan. 27, 2018 at 6pm. The show will remain on display at the DCAC Gallery through Feb. 24, 2018.

Frank Stick was an illustrator who produced work and cover art for Field and Stream, Outdoor America, Colliers, Sports Afield, and The Saturday Evening Post. He moved to the Outer Banks in 1929 and was instrumental in the establishment of the Cape Hatteras National Seashore, Fort Raleigh National Historic Site, and the Wright Brothers National Memorial. On top of being a preservationist, Stick was also a watercolorist who focused on marine life, specifically fish.

In 1978 the Frank Stick Memorial Art Show became Dare County Arts Council's first full-fledged, annual exhibition. The show has had multiple homes, including the Manteo library, Glenn Eure's Ghost Fleet Gallery, and Dare County Arts Council's Gallery in the historic Dare County Courthouse in downtown Manteo.

"I remember Don Bryan and I hanging Arts Council shows in the Manteo library for a few years before this show, which was then moved to Glenn's Ghost Fleet Gallery and named in honor of Frank Stick," said Steve Andrus, who was one of the 12 exhibiting artists in the inaugural Frank Stick Memorial Art Show. "I'm glad that the community still has a show for the local artists to show in."

The Frank Stick Memorial Art Show was held at Dare County Arts Council for the first time since its inception in January 2017. The 2017 show had almost 100 entries from DCAC members and record attendance of over 300 people at the opening reception. Dare County Arts Council named the Eure Best in Show award after Glenn and Pat Eure for their many years of hosting the Frank Stick Memorial Art Show and supporting the arts in Dare County.

Artists wishing to participate in this year's show must be members of DCAC and aged 18 or older. Memberships can be renewed when artists drop off their artwork on Jan. 23 or Jan. 24 between 10am and 5pm at the DCAC Gallery, located at 300 Queen Elizabeth Avenue, Manteo, NC 27954.

A prospectus can be found online at (DareArts DOT org/frankstickshow) and at the DCAC Gallery.

Charlottesville, VA, based artist Sharon Shapiro will judge the show.

"I'm honored to be the juror for the longest running visual art exhibition in Dare County, and more importantly for something that keeps the memory of visionary Frank Stick alive in the community," said artist Shapiro. "I'm very excited to see the wide range of work submitted and look forward to visiting the Outer Banks and meeting new artists."

Shapiro's figurative paintings and works on paper have been included in collections at The Museum of Contemporary Art of Georgia (MOCA GA), the American Pavilion Library, and the Tullman Collection in Chicago, IL, and have been exhibited in numerous venues including shows in Boston, New York, Los Angeles, and London. She is a past recipient of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts Fellowship, holds a BFA from the Atlanta College of Art, and is a 2019 Candidate for an MFA in Painting from Maine College of Art (MECA).

Dare County Arts Council is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit arts organization dedicated to supporting the arts in Dare County.

of still life and landscapes and is an active environmentalist. A primary goal of White's landscape painting is to bring to the viewer awareness of the magnificent surroundings we all share and must protect. She has worked passionately to preserve the natural resources and to document the beautiful, fragile planet in her paintings.

Currently, White is working on several series, one of which features landscapes and cityscapes of North Carolina. These works include marshes, lakes, streams, vineyards, old barns, wet city streets, and anything else that really captures her attention. She does both plein air paintings of the landscapes and larger studio paintings in which she works to recapitulate the sensory qualities she experience when painting on site.

White is an Exhibiting Member of the Oil Painters of America and a Signature Member of the Pastel Society of America. She is an active member of Visual Art Exchange, Durham Art Guild, Pastel Society of North Carolina, and Landscape Artists International. White has studied with some of the top representational painters in the country including Luana Luconi Winner, photographs highlighting both the pioneers of the medium and contemporary artists working in the field today. CAM invited eight North Carolina art museums to participate in this collaborative exhibition, asking each to curate which photographs to feature from their permanent collections. One museum focused on Bauhaus works created between the world wars, another curated a body of work by North Carolina photographers, while others chose work by such well-known artists as Robert Mapplethorpe, Andres Serrano, Mickalene Thomas, Burk Uzzle, Edward Weston, Aaron Siskind, Francesca Woodman and Ansel Adams. For further information call the Museum at 910/395-5999 or visit (www.cameronartmuseum.org).

The deadline each month to submit articles, photos and ads is the 24th of the month prior to the next issue. This will be Jan. 24th for the February 2018 issue and Feb. 24 for the March issue. After that, it's too late unless your exhibit runs into the next month. But don't wait for the last minute - send your info now. And where do you send that info? E-mail to (info@carolinaarts.com).

Gibbes Museum of Art, 135 Meeting Street, Charleston. Gallery 2, Through May 20 - "Mexico and the Charleston Renaissance". This exhibition explores the influence of Mexican art and culture upon American artists in the mid twentieth century, particularly artists associated with the Charleston Renaissance. Mexico and the Charleston Renaissance features paintings and works on paper from the Gibbes Collection by William Halsey, Anna Heyward Taylor, George Biddle, Charles Wilbert White, Edward Middleton Manigault and Corrie McCallum. Gallery 3, Through May 20 - "Magic in the Mundane: Modernist Photography from the Robert Marks Collection". Influenced by surrealism and other modernist art movements, early twentieth-century photographers expanded the traditional boundaries of the camera radically altering perceptions of everyday subjects. This exhibition features works by Alfred Stieglitz, Berenice Abbott, Laszlo Moholy-Nagy, Martin Munkácsi, and George Platt Lynes, from the Robert Marks Collection at the Gibbes. Galleries 8 & 9, Through Jan. 7 - "Pan American Modernism: Avant-Garde Art in Latin America and the United States". This exhibit explores the rich visual dialogue that flourished across the Americas between 1919 and 1979. Showcasing more than 70 important works of art, the exhibition examines Modernism as an international phenomenon, embracing the contributions of Latin American artists. 2nd Floor Atrium, Through Mar. 24 - "Betwixt and Between". Sculptor Patrick Dougherty works with twigs and branches to create site-specific installations. Woven together and held in place by tension, Dougherty's sculptures have a whimsical quality, inspired by his childhood adventures exploring the woods of North Carolina. At the Gibbes, Dougherty has created an installation titled "Betwixt and Between" in the museum's glass atrium, creating a visual connection between the interior gallery space and the lush outdoor garden. Museum Shop - Now offering the inventory of the Tradd Street Press, reproductions of works by Elizabeth O'Neill Verner among other exhibit related art objects. Saul Alexander Foundation Gallery, Charleston County Public Library, 68 Calhoun St., Charleston. Jan. 1 - 31 - "Cuba, 2015," featuring works by Andy Brack. Cuba - an island just 90 miles off of Florida's coast - has an exotic allure for Americans, largely due to the sociopolitical gulf that made it off-limits for more than 50 years. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am-8pm; Fri. & Sat., 9am-6pm; and Sun. 2-5pm. Contact: Frances Richardson at 843/805-6803 or at (www.ccpl.org).

The Charleston Museum, 360 Meeting Street, Charleston. Founded in 1773, is America's first museum. Charleston Museum's Lowcountry Image Gallery, Through May 14 - "The Early Days: A Photographic History of America's First Museum," tells the story of the Museum's transformation over the years. After The Charleston Museum's founding in 1773 by the Charleston Library Society, it was subsequently overseen by the Library Society, the Literary and Philosophical Society of South Carolina, the Medical College of South Carolina, and the College of Charleston. In 1907, Charleston's city council offered the newly built Thomson Auditorium on Rutledge Avenue to house the Museum and provided funding to support the growing institution. Over the years, Museum directors continued the expansion of exhibits and educational programs and fashioned the Museum into a much loved cultural institution in the Charleston community. By the 1970s, the grand building that housed the Museum had fallen into serious disrepair and the welfare of the collections was threatened. Under the directorship of Donald Herold, the collections were moved to the new location at 360 Meeting Street, and the Museum opened once again to the community in April 1980. Unfortunately, in October of 1981, a fire destroyed the old building leaving only the portico with four columns as a remembrance. Textile Gallery, Through May 31 - "Piece by Piece: Geometric Quilts," the second installment of the exhibition, will consist of quilts with geometric designs. Different shapes and piecing techniques have traditionally been mainstays of the quilting craft. From magnificent stars to traditional nine-patch, these quilts will also include clever hexagons of English paper-template piecing along with Log Cabins, Flying Geese, Chimney Sweeps and even a few Crazy Quilts. Ongoing - Featuring the most extensive collection of South Carolina cultural and scientific collections in the nation, it also owns two National Historic Landmark houses, the Heyward-Washington House (1772) and the Joseph Manigault House (1803), as well as the Dill Sanctuary, a 580-acre wildlife preserve. Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 843/722-2996 or at (www.charlestonmuseum.org).

Columbia Area

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Through Jan. 15 - "Henri Matisse: Jazz & Poetry on Paper," a sweeping exhibition that celebrates four of the artist's books, including his iconic Jazz portfolio. Drawn from the Bank of America art collection, the exhibition features 80 framed illustrations that together offer meditations on life, love, hardship, and utter joy. "Henri Matisse is one of the essential European artists of the modern era," says Lynn Robertson, CMA interim director. "As South Carolina's only international art museum, we are thrilled to partner with Bank of America to give our community the chance to see the artist in one of his most personal and experimental genres." Through Apr. 22 - "Renée Cox: Soul Culture," showcasing a new series of works from pioneering photographer Renée Cox. With this mesmerizing exhibition of one video and 11 mixed-media photographic collages, Cox aims to inspire transcendence and provide a space where people of color know no limits. "Throughout her career, Cox has subverted everything from the expectations of women in art programs to the telling of history and legend, rewriting it by inserting her own image as a strong black woman into the role of lead character, superhero, and even Jesus at the Last Supper," says CMA Curator Catherine Walworth. Galleries 5 & 6, Ongoing - "Modern & Contemporary Art from the Collection". Celebrating some of the CMA's greatest hits, this exhibition features over 30 paintings, drawings, photographs and sculptures from the Museum's collection that have not been on view recently. It offers the visitor experiences both serious and sensual and is designed to both entertain and enlighten. Notable works included are by Jasper Johns, Howard Thomas, Sally Mann and Edward Ruscha, whose famous image of the Hollywood Hills (on view) has become a staple of the art world. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; first Fri., till 8pm; Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 803/799-2810 or at (www.columbiamuseum.org).

McKissick Museum, University of South Carolina, USC Horseshoe, Columbia. 2nd floor, North Gallery, Ongoing - "Diverse Voices: Discovering Community Through Traditional Arts". Dedicated to the late George D. Terry, "Diverse Voices" explores deeply-rooted traditions that help create and maintain the cultural landscape of South Carolina and the surrounding region. Each year the exhibit will focus on a specific theme or tradition. Year one of "Diverse Voices" offers a comprehensive presentation of objects from the museum collection that represent the work of celebrated NEA National Heritage Fellows and 701 Center for Contemporary Art, 701 Whaley St., Columbia. West side of the 701 Whaley building, Ongoing - "Herb Parker: Olympia Dialogue," featuring an outdoor, architectural installation by Charleston, SC, artist Herb Parker. His architectural structure is 10 feet tall, 34 feet long and 18 feet wide and made of rebar, oat straw, jute, bamboo, reed and mulch. Parker created the work during his May residency at 701 CCA with several volunteer assistants. "Olympia Dialogue" is 701 CCA's first commissioned public art work. Hours: Wed., 11am-8pm; Thur.-Sat., 11am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 803/238-2351 or at (www.701cca.org).

SC State Museum, 301 Gervais St., Columbia. Ongoing - "ART: A Collection of Collections." The SC State Museum is home to over 4,000 works of art, hand-made objects and various collections within its collection. Many of these pieces have never been on display in the museum. ART: A Collection of Collections will highlight some of these one-of-a-kind collections within the museum's entire collection. Guests will get to explore works of fine, folk and decorative art made by South Carolina artists that are being grouped into collections within the exhibit based on medium, subject or artist. This exhibit will showcase rarely seen artwork by South Carolina artists, enhanced by the fascinating stories of their inception and why they belong with other works of art to give us a new look at South Carolina and its visual culture. The Crescent Café, second floor mezzanine of the Museum. West Main Artists Cooperative, 578 West Main St., Spartanburg. Jan. 3 - 28 - "Roots," featuring works by Ludovic Nkoth, which will explore his African heritage. A reception will be held on Jan. 18, from 5:30-8:30pm, during the city's monthly ArtWalk. "My journey began in Cameroon, West Africa, where I was born in October of 1994," the artist said. "The vibrant cities inspired me at an early age so much so that I spent much of my time there filling sketchbooks. My work explores the relationship between the body and urban spaces. With influences as diverse as Picasso, Dali, and Andy Warhol, new tensions are crafted from both opaque and transparent layers infused with rich textures and colors. Ongoing - Featuring a twenty thousand square foot facility offering affordable studio space and featuring works by 50 local artists. Come to see works from local artists, attend workshops, shop in the retail store, or meet any of the artists in their studios. Hours: Thur., 3-6pm; Sat., 10am-4pm; with extended hours on the 3rd Thur. of each month until 9pm for Spartanburg's Art Walk. Contact: 864 804-6501 or at (www.westmainartists.org).

Sumter

Sumter County Gallery of Art, Sumter County Cultural Center, 135 Haynesworth St., Sumter. Through Jan. 12, 2018 - "The Art of Deane Ackerman" and "Terrell Clark: EYES of Havana". Ackerman, a native of Illinois, attended Northwestern University for one year, and then continued her college work as a sculpture major at the School of the Art Institute in Chicago. Married, with 3 children and 3 grandchildren, she has been a Sumter resident since 1965 and is a charter member of the Sumter Artist's Guild, which was founded in 1972. She worked almost exclusively as a sculptor until 1980, producing many pieces now found in private collections across the country. Though she has worked in a variety of mediums, her focus for the past 30 years has been colored pencil drawing, for which she has won numerous awards. A native of Meridian, MS, Terrell Clark is a photographer with an exceptional eye who possesses that rare ability to capture those precious moments in life that would otherwise be missed and forever lost in the vortex of forgotten memories. Clark's beginning in photography is quite interesting. When he was in ninth grade, he built a pinhole camera from a Maxwell House coffee can. To this day he still has his first picture, which was taken with the pinhole camera. Artisan Center Gift Shop - Featuring art objects from local and regional artists. Hours: Tues-Sat 11-5pm & Sun., 1:30-5pm. Contact: 803/775-0543 or at (www.sumtergallery.org).

Turchin Center for the Visual Arts, Appalachian State University, 423 West King Street, Boone. Mayer Gallery, Through Jan. 6 - "Garden of Botanical Delights: Diane Kempler". Although Diane Kempler and Hieronymus Bosch work in different media and are, forgive the obvious, from vastly different cultural eras, there is something about Kempler's wildly gesturing ceramic forms that remind me of Bosch's passionately overpopulated paintings. It is not just the similarity of the titles, Kempler's nod to the Dutch Renaissance artist. Just as Bosch's seminal painting, "The Garden of Earthly Delights" seduces the viewer with the richness of macroscopic life, Kempler's "Garden of Botanical Delights" achieves the same effect with the richness of life seen through a microscope. Gallery A, Through Jan. 6 - "Taking Tea: Judith Gregory". Gregory transforms the Turchin Center's Gallery A into a tranquil tea house for meditation, contemplation and intimate conversation. As the world rapidly changes outside the walls of the center, sanctuary becomes all the more important as we try to make sense of our place in the universal village through ceremony and interpretation. Constructed from used tea bags and loose tea leaves, "Taking Tea" creates an immersion in a quiet, delicately scented world. Come for a moment, stay for an hour, the Turchin Center invites visitors to find shelter and inspiration through the visual arts. A university art gallery is a safe place to think and talk about ideas with all peoples regardless of race, religion, gender identify, political persuasion—you name it—with respect and active listening. What better place than a tea house to cross cultural barriers and find common ground. Gallery B, Through Jan. 6 - "Spectacle & Scaffolding: Contemporary Photography Muses Hierarchy," guest curated by Ann Pegelow Kaplan. The exhibit features the works of contemporary photographic artists who explore the underlying power structures that we live with and participate in daily, but which often seem invisible. Mark Curran, Trevor Paglen, Greta Pratt, and elin O'Hara slavick reflect upon systems that inscribe and maintain power differentials in the United States and beyond, including the market economy, the labor system and workers, technology and surveillance, the relationship of patriotism to the nation-state, and hierarchical social categories such as race, gender, class, and nationality. Hours: 10am-6pm, Tue., Wed., Thur., & Sat. and Fri., noon -8pm. Contact: Hank T. Foreman at 828/262-3017 or at (www.turchincenter.org).

Ackland Art Museum, UNC - Chapel Hill, Columbia & Franklin Streets, Chapel Hill. Through Jan. 7 - "South African Beadwork: Recent Acquisitions from the Collection of Norma Canelas Roth and William Roth". The Ackland recently acquired—by gift and purchase from the distinguished collection of Norma Canelas Roth and William Roth of Winter Haven, Florida—29

fine pieces of nineteenth- and twentieth-century beadwork by peoples of the South East Cape region of what is now South Africa. Few museums can claim such rich holdings. South African beadwork is an art of vibrant colors, sophisticated patterns, and varied textures. The works on view derive from three principal population groups in the area: the Mfengu, the Zulu, and the Ndebele. Of particular note are rare examples of nineteenth-century beadwork, probably collected by European Christian missionaries. Through Jan. 7 - "Flash of Light, Fog of War: Japanese Military Prints, 1894-1905". The exhibit examines how Japanese printmakers, in response to First Sino-Japanese War and the Russo-Japanese War, created dynamic compositions - soldiers silhouetted against fiery pyrotechnic explosions, beams of bright white electrical light illuminating the hulls of steel warships, and the haze of spent gunpowder obscuring the brutal combat of the battlefield - that were part reportage and part dazzling artistic display. Through Aug. 31 - "Step Right Up," an outdoor installation by sculptor Patrick Dougherty. The Ackland Art Museum at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has commissioned its first major site-specific, outdoor art installation in nearly 20 years: a "stickwork" sculpture by Chapel Hill-based artist Patrick Dougherty entitled "Step Right Up". The large-scale work was constructed on-site over a three-week period, and is made entirely of tree saplings. It is on view 24/7 in front of the Ackland Art Museum. The Collection Galleries, Through May 18 - "The Collection Galleries". In this beautifully designed installation, the Ackland presents a powerful and stimulating selection of over 260 works from its extensive permanent collection. Museum Store Gallery (Franklin and Columbia Street), Store hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5:30pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Museum Hours: Wed. & Thur., 10am-9pm; 2nd Fris. 10am-9pm; all other Fris., 10am-5pm; Sat. 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 919/966-5736 or at (www.ackland.org).

Mint Museum Randolph, 2730 Randolph Road, Charlotte. Bridges and Levine Galleries, Ongoing - "Contemporary British Studio Ceramics: The Grainer Collection". Focused on the collection of Diane and Marc Grainer, this installation is a survey of contemporary British studio ceramics. Comprising functional and sculptural objects made between the 1980s and today, the show features work by artists either born or residing in Great Britain, including established "contemporary classics" like Gordon Baldwin and Rupert Spira, and cutting-edge ceramicists such as Julian Stair and Kate Malone. Several recently-gifted works from the Grainers are included. Alexander, Spangler, and Harris Galleries, Ongoing - "Portals to the Past: British Ceramics 1675 - 1825". The Mint Museum's collection of eighteenth-century British pottery and porcelain is widely respected for its scope and quality. The collection numbers over 2,000 objects and includes important examples of both salt-glazed and dry-bodied stoneware from Staffordshire; tin-glazed earthenware from Bristol, Liverpool, and London; and cream-colored earthenware from Derbyshire, Staffordshire, and Yorkshire. Notable eighteenth-century porcelain factories represented include Chelsea, Bow, and Vauxhall in London, Longton Hall in Staffordshire, Worcester, Bristol, and others. Individual works in the collection are exceptional because of their rarity, craftsmanship, provenance, or as representative examples of particular types or methods of production or decoration. Ongoing - "American Glass". The nineteenth and early twentieth centuries represented a time of extraordinary growth for the American glass industry. Such companies as Boston & Sandwich Glass Company in Sandwich, MA; Steuben Glass Works in Corning, NY; and Libbey Glass Company in Toledo, OH, began operation and soon developed notable reputations for producing fashionable wares that were coveted by many middle- and upper-class consumers. "American Glass" showcases objects by these and other American glass companies, illustrating the variety of forms and styles that prevailed during this period. Glass-manufacturing techniques will be another focus of the exhibition, with representative examples of pressed, cut, blown, and molded glass. Nearly all of the works on view are from The Mint Museum's permanent collection of glass, which is second in size only to the ceramics collection in the museum's Decorative Arts holdings. Ongoing - "Arts of Africa". The African continent is remarkable in its geographic, social, political, and cultural diversity. This impressive diversity is reflected in the visual arts through a variety of media and forms including ceramics, masks, textiles, sculptures, prestige staffs, and shrines. With exceptional loans from private collectors and The Mint Museum's own collection of African Art, the museum is pleased to announce the expansion of its presentation of Arts of Africa, thereby providing visitors a more in-depth, meaningful, and exciting overview of African art. Heritage Gallery, Ongoing - Feature works of art, archival documents, and photographs documenting the growth and evolution of the museum, from its beginnings as the original branch of the US Mint to its founding as an art museum to the present and beyond. Ongoing - "Art for the Millions: WPA Prints" and "Carolina Clay," featuring a display of colorful wares made between 1920 and 1950 as potters from NC adapted their works to a market economy. "Art of the United States," featuring contemporary works from the Mint's permanent collection, including works by Romare Bearden, Maud Gatewood, John Biggers Juan Logan, Tarlton Blackwell, Radcliffe Bailey, Kojo Griffin, and others. "Art in the Americas," featuring paintings, precious metalwork, sculpture, furniture and decorative arts from the 17th through the 19th centuries illustrate the unique culture that emerged from the Spanish colonization of the Americas. Crosland Gallery - Featuring a presentation of portraits with many fascinating images presented. Rankin Gallery - Featuring a presentation of the Romare Bearden Collection, including two "new" Beardens. Delhom Gallery, Ongoing - The European Collection of ceramic works. Admission: Yes. Hours: Wed., 11am-9pm (free admission 5-9pm); Thur.-Sat., 11am-6pm; & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 704/337-2000 or at (www.mintmuseum.org).

Mint Museum Uptown, Levine Center for the Arts, 500 South Tryon St., Charlotte. Through June 17 - "Develar y detonar (Reveal and Detonate)," features the powerful, thought-provoking work of more than 40 of Mexico's leading photographers. This not-to-be-missed exhibition examines the wide range of approaches that these photographers use to explore subjects, ranging from their own personal histories and relationships to their engagement with the country's diverse landscape to pressing social and political issues ranging from land use, drug trade, and immigration to beauty, sexuality, and gender. Ranging in size from a few inches across to floor-to-ceiling murals, some of these works are highly formal; others make a play for sheer beauty; still others are manipulated or staged to instill a sense of magic and wonder. Develar y detonar promises to open an engaging dialogue around the power of photography to both document and question many aspects of modern life, examining issues that are not isolated to residents of Mexico but that stretch across cultures and borders, connecting us all. Through June 3 - "William Ivey Long: Costume Designs 2007-2016". North Carolina native William Ivey Long is one of the most renowned theatrical costume designers working today. This exhibition, organized by The Mint Museum, explores Long's most recent work, from 2007 to today. It features the theatrical productions "The Lost Colony" (redesigned 2007-2008), "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" (2012), "Rodgers and Hammerstein's Cinderella" (2013), "Little Dancer" (2014), and "On the Twentieth Century" (2015), as well as the television specials "Grease Live!" (2016), and "The Rocky Horror Picture Show: Let's Do the Time Warp Again" (2016). Focusing on Long's process, it features sketches, swatches, mood boards, and other preparatory materials in addition to the costumes themselves. Because costume design is not an area in which the Mint collects, it provides visitors with exposure to this form of art and allow for comparison of the different goals of theatrical costume and fashion. The exhibition is co-curated by Annie Carlano and Rebecca Elliot. It will be accompanied by a scholarly and lavishly illustrated book. Ongoing - The Mint Museum Uptown will house the world renowned collections of the Mint Museum of Craft + Design, as well as the American Art and Contemporary Art collections and selected works from the European Art collection. The building also includes a café, a Family Gallery, painting and ceramics studios, classrooms, a 240-seat auditorium, a Special Events Pavilion with outdoor terrace, and an expanded Museum Shop specializing in crafts of the Carolinas. Admission: Yes. Hours: Wed., 11am-9pm (free admission 5-9pm); Thur.-Sat., 11am-6pm; & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 704/337-2000 or at (www.mintmuseum.org).

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. The Leah Louise B. Tannenbaum Gallery and The Louise D. and Herbert S. Falk, Sr. Gallery, Through Apr. 8 - "Sanford Biggers: Falk Visiting Artist". On Mar. 15, at 7pm, Biggers will give the Falk Visiting Artist Talk. Multimedia artist Sanford Biggers creates artworks that intentionally complicate our understandings of history, culture, and identity. His densely layered paintings on antique southern quilts combine imagery from such disparate sources as Buddhism, graffiti, and harmonics. Linked by themes of navigation, these motifs simultaneously recall stories of quilts being used as markers on the Underground Railroad and star charts employed by astronomers. The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, Jan. 27 - Apr. 22 - "Baggage Claims". The exhibition presents the work of 17 international artists who explore the impact of today's vast global commerce and travel on contemporary life. Using suitcases, trunks, and crates to create works of art, these artists express provocative ideas about the mobility of global culture. These ideas often refer to the humanitarian, economic, and political concerns of populations that are compelled to flee conflicts and hardship or to seek opportunities far from home. The Gregory D. Ivy Gallery and The Weatherspoon Guild Gallery, Through Feb. 11 - "For All Time: Interpretations of the Fourth Dimension from the Collection". The artworks included in this exhibition express a variety of ways artists have explored this multifarious concept, be it metaphorically, ironically, sequentially, or kinetically. The exhibition is organized by Elaine D. Gustafson, Curator of Collections. A Noon @ the 'Spoon, Public Tour will be offered on Oct 10, at noon. New WAM Atrium Installation, Through Jan. 31 - "Women Abstract Expressionists: Selections from the Collection". An art movement that came into being in the 1950s, Abstract Expressionism was seen as both the poster child of modernism and the symbol of all things avant-garde. Yet, the valorization of this style coincided with an unforeseen erasure of many of the female artists who also took part in it. These equally talented painters emerged from a variety of backgrounds and explored a range of artistic approaches. As a way to highlight their substantive contributions, this exhibition from the Weatherspoon's collection features paintings by five of these artists. The varieties of form, color, flow, and overall style stand as testament to the important innovations they made to the movement and further validate their right to recognition. By breaking away from Abstract Expressionism's cult of personality, they promoted new degrees of richness and depth (both of style and technique) that have brought new life to this defining period. Atrium and Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue., Wed. & Fri., 10am-5pm, Thur., 10am to 9pm and Sat. & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/).

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Through Jan. 21 - "Inspiring Beauty: 50 Years of Ebony Fashion Fair," which tells the remarkable story of an extraordinary fashion show. The exhibition explores the 50-year history of the Ebony Fashion Fair (1958-2009), an unparalleled charity fashion show event that redefined the concepts of beauty, fashion, and empowerment for African Americans. It features 40 stunning ensembles by designers such as Stephen Burrows, Pierre Cardin, Christian Dior, Givenchy, Patrick Kelly, Christian Lacroix, Yves Saint Laurent, Bob Mackie, Alexander McQueen, b. Michael, Missoni, Jean Patou, and Vivienne Westwood. The exhibition also includes archival photographs and memorabilia from "Ebony" magazine and Ebony Fashion Fair. East Building, Level B, Through Jan. 28 - "Andrea Donnelly: We've Met Before". North Carolina-raised artist Andrea Donnelly explores the dynamic between the formulaic methods of handwoven cloth and the impulsiveness of ink in the creation of her larger-than-life textiles, featuring images of the human body, blots, and delicate floral abstractions. Her art furnishes both mental and physical spaces by creating an intimate, tactile relationship between the viewer and cloth. She employs photography to create the silhouettes within her work, giving her art a precision that reiterates the meticulous process of hand weaving fiber. Calling her work "a literal record of its making," Donnelly uses textiles to replicate the process of creating a mirror image on paper with ink through dyeing, weaving, unweaving, and weaving again. East Building, Level B, Video Gallery, Through Jan. 28 - "Sabine Gruffat: A Kiss of the Earth". The exhibit is an interactive computer-animated video and sound installation inspired by Sergei Diaghilev's revolutionary 1913 Ballets Russes production of The Rite of Spring, scored by Igor Stravinsky. It is the story of a pagan tribe calling on its deities to restore the earth, a drama that ends with a sacrificial maiden's dancing herself to death. East Building, Level B, Allen G. Thomas Jr. Photography Gallery, Through Jan. 28 - "Night(Light)". The exhibit explores light as it interacts with darkness in photography. In its purest form, photography harnesses light. The images give shape to light, immortalizing and suspending it. The eerie feeling of night is not lost in these photographs from the Museum's permanent collection. East Building, Level B, Julian T. Baker Jr. Photography Gallery, Through Jan. 28 - "Rhythmic Vitality: Photographs by Barbara Morgan". This exhibition features photographs by Barbara Morgan from the NCMA's permanent collection. Although Morgan, one of the founders of the photography magazine Aperture, is best known for her studies of modern dance, she also created photomontages and light drawings. Morgan said: "Whether my work is large or small, abstract or realistic, the one thing that must be present is rhythmic vitality...it doesn't matter if it is dance or montage or people or nature. There always has to be the presence of energy." African Art Gallery, East Building, Level A, Ongoing - Featuring African creativity spanning 16 centuries. The new gallery will be three times as large as the old West Building gallery, allowing the Museum to display nearly twice as many works - including some that have not been on view in a decade, and others that are newly acquired and have never before been on display. The new gallery will feature improved light control so that light-sensitive works of art, such as textiles and works on paper, can be given more visibility, shown in curated rotations. The gallery will include a designated space to highlight North Carolina collections of African art from private collectors and public institutions, beginning with work from Bennett College. It will also incorporate African and African Diasporic modern and contemporary art, including a site-specific wall drawing by Nigerian-American artist Victor Ekpuk. NCMA Park - The North Carolina Museum of Art (NCMA) announces new works of art to be installed in the 164-acre NCMA Park. The works include a bronze tree by Italian artist Giuseppe Penone, a playful pair of benches designed by Hank Willis Thomas, and a 10-day installation of 23-foot-tall illuminated rabbits by Australian artist Amanda Parer. The sculptures will be featured at the NCMA's Park Celebration on Nov. 6, when the public is invited to experience the newly expanded Park with a variety of outdoor activities. Ongoing - Featuring 10 additional sculptures by the celebrated French artist Rodin on loan from Iris Cantor's private collection. Ongoing - "John James Audubon's The Birds of America". The state has owned this treasured volume since 1848, but it has never been exhibited. Ongoing - The North Carolina Museum of Art has an outstanding permanent collection of more than 5,000 objects spanning antiquity to the present day. On the occasion of the expansion, the Museum has acquired more than 100 new works of art. Representing commissions, gifts, and purchases, the new works encompass important and diverse examples of historic and contemporary art from around the world, and will be installed in the Museum's new building and the surrounding landscape. Highlights include a gift of 28 sculptures by Auguste Rodin, and work by such internationally acclaimed artists as Roxy Paine, Ursula von Rydingsvard, El Anatsui, Jaume Plensa, Jackie Ferrara, Ellsworth Kelly, and David Park, among others. Admission: Yes for some exhibits. Hours:
