Work by Mark Iwinski

GreenHill, a space for NC art, 200 North Davie Street, Greensboro Cultural Center, Greensboro. Through Mar. 27 - "Imprint," curated by Edie Carpenter, presents four artists who are taking prints to a different level by utilizing printmaking techniques to create three-dimensional works. The four artists, Mathew Curran, April Flanders, Mark Iwinski and Indrani Nayar-Gall, conceive works that defy the confines of a frame or matrix that is the basis of traditional printmaking and work towards a three-dimensional presence in space. Following GreenHill's 2008 survey of North Carolina printmakers, this exhibition examines the different ways contemporary printmakers create installations to address themes of social change and the vulnerability of the natural environment. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Wed. till 7pm; and Sun., 2-5 pm. Contact: 336/333-7460 or at (www.greenhillnc.org).

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. The Gregory D. Ivy Gallery, The Weatherspoon Guild Gallery, Through Mar. 9, 2014 - "Nature in All Its Glory: Selections from the Collection."

This exhibition of paintings, works on paper, and sculpture from the Weatherspoon's collection honors one of the longstanding themes in the history of art: the celebration of nature and all its wondrous grandeur. Through myriad means, the works featured in this exhibition explore the magnificence, mystery, and power of nature as we experience it in daily life. The Louise B. Tannenbaum Gallery, Through Apr. 13 - "Bugs, Beasts and Blossoms: Japanese Woodblock Prints from the Dr. Lenoir C. Wright Collection". Unique images of nature created by Japanese artists from the Edo period (1615-1868) through the twentieth century will fill the Tannenbaum Gallery this spring. The two principal artists responsible for introducing this theme to the woodblock print art form were Hokusai (1760-1849) and Hiroshige (1797-1858). Later artists continued their custom of directly observing nature and imbuing its flora and fauna with symbolic meanings. The Louise D. and Herbert S. Falk, Sr. Gallery, Through Apr. 13 - "Foreign Love - Jiha Moon: Falk Visiting Artist". Known for combining traditional Asian landscape-painting techniques with American Modern and Pop art influences, Moon's colorful compositions blur the lines between East and West to speak to the cultural pluralism of contemporary society. Composed with flowing, gestural brushstrokes, and an array of iconic references (emoticons, Lucky Cats, lotus blossoms, scrolls), her imaginative mash-ups offer an intense experience. Gallery 6, Feb. 8 - May 4 - "Nancy Rubins: Drawing, Sculpture, Studies". An artist's talk and reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8:30pm. Rubins is known for her large-scale commissioned sculptures composed of boats and airplane parts as well as for her extraordinary graphite drawings— all elegant forms that adventurously confront gravity and transform materials into objects of extraordinary visual beauty. This exhibition is the first to explore the relationships among her work in various media and focuses on the career arc of one of the foremost sculptors working today. Atrium and Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue., Wed. & Fri., 10am-5pm, Thur., 10am to 9pm and weekends, 1-5pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (<http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/>).

Willem de Kooning, Untitled, n.d., mixed media on paper, Gift of Peter Falotico, 2013.18

Hickory Museum of Art, Arts and Science Center, 243 Third Avenue NE, Hickory. Shuford Gallery, Through Mar. 9 - "Elizabeth Catlett: Artist - Activist." Catlett was an American-born Mexican sculptor and printmaker, best known for the black, expressionistic sculptures and prints she produced during the 1960s and 1970s, which are seen as politically charged. This exhibition features the Museum's recent acquisitions Cartas and Nina, as well as works borrowed from local collectors. Whitener Gallery, Through Mar. 9 - "Snowfall in the City and the Country." This exhibition features winter landscape paintings collected by the Museum's founder and first director, Paul Whitener. Artists include Guy Wiggins, Hobart Nichols, and Gardner Symons. Coe Gallery, Through Mar. 29 - "Faces & Figures from the Permanent Collection." An exhibition of portraits and other artwork celebrating the figure, from new acquisitions like Untitled attributed to Willem de Kooning, to beloved favorites such as The Windowseat by Jane Peterson. Presented in conjunction with the Museum's 70th anniversary celebration. Entrance Gallery, Through Apr. 13 - "IMAGE'INATION: Catawba Valley Camera Club Photo Competition." The winning submissions from a regional photography competition juried by the Catawba Valley Camera Club are featured in this exhibition. The entry divisions include amateur and youth. This is the seventh annual exhibition. Windows Gallery, Through Mar. 23 - "100th Anniversary of the Armory Show - Organized by Arthur B. Davies". The Armory Show refers to the 1913 International Exhibition of Modern Art that was organized by the Association of American Painters and Sculptors, the first large exhibition of modern art in America. Celebrating 100 years since the Armory Show, the Hickory Museum of Art presents an exhibit from its own collection of work by the Armory Show's leading organizer, Arthur B. Davies. Also included are works by George Beal, Elie Nadelman, John Sloan and William Glackens; who also participated in the Armory Show. Gifford & Regal Galleries, Through Mar. 9 - "Juie Ratley III." Paintings by Kernersville, NC, artist Juie Ratley III, created after his childhood friend was killed in an apparent home invasion. Through a series of self-portraits, he shows various expressions of anger, resignation and sadness. Ongoing - "Glass & Pottery from the Museum's Permanent Collection." Mezzanine Gallery, Ongoing - "Discover Folk Art: Unique Visions by Southern Self-Taught Artists from the Hickory Museum of Art Collection." Highlands

The Bascom, a center for the visual arts, 323 Franklin Rd., covered bridge entrance at the end of Main Street, Highlands. Education Gallery, Ongoing - The Bascom offers our students and instructors an opportunity to display their creative works from workshops and classes. The perspectives of these talented individuals reveal self-expression, cultural awareness and technical discipline. These ongoing displays expose the viewer to the analysis, invention, exploration and decision making processes used by students during the development of ideas into a work of art. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm. Contact: 828/526-4949 or at (www.thebascom.org).

High Point

Theatre Art Galleries, High Point Theatre, 220 East Commerce Avenue, High Point. Main Gallery, Through Mar. 21 - Featuring an exhibit of works by nationally recognized artist Murry Handler, who lives in Pittsboro, NC, but his extensive training in art began in NYC where he studied at The Franklin Institute of Art, figure drawing with Joseph Kelly at Pratt Institute, and painting at the Workshop School under the late Joe Hirsh. Gallery B, Through Mar. 21 - Features an exhibit of works by Jean Cauthen, Kate Worm, and Stephen Brooks. Cauthen grew up in Italy, New Orleans and the Carolinas. Every year she returns to Italy to capture images of vineyards or the cityscapes of Venice and Rome. Worm is an artist inspired by the natural environment, particularly the wooded interiors near her home in NC. She paints landscapes with oil, but uses watercolor and gouache for figure work. Brooks is a painter inspired by nature and the forests blanketing North Carolina. He is not interested in making his paintings look realistic and would rather his paintings be an expression of his visual ideas. Hallway Gallery, Through Mar. 21 - "HEALING SEEKERS: A Photography Exhibit". Healing Seekers is an educational resource whose primary focus is providing video content material and resources for school systems, educational venues, and the general public. Kaleidoscope Gallery, Through Mar. 21 - Presents the "Annual Middle School Art Exhibition," featuring works of art by many of Guilford County's Middle school artists.
