Work by Jeff Donovan

Mike Brown Contemporary, (formerly if ARTS) 1223 Lincoln St., Columbia. Paper Loft, Through Apr. 27 - "Jeff Donovan - Wax Works," featuring new small works in encaustic and pastel. Donovan says, "My use of wax as a painting medium began in 2007 when I started using it to fill and match the color of areas of lost paint in paintings being conserved, known as inpainting in the field of fine art conservation. As I was also making figurative ceramic sculptures at that time, I was intrigued by the possibility of pigmented wax as a surface treatment on fired ceramic, but decided that before attempting the encaustic technique "in the round" it would be better to familiarize myself with it on flat surfaces. While there are countless examples of successful encaustic paintings, both ancient and contemporary, my initial efforts were stunningly unsuccessful. Along the way, however, I realized that what makes wax unlike other paint mediums is its adhesive quality, which allows practically anything that can be adhered to a surface to adhere to it. This includes both wet and dry art mediums, such as gouache, wet and dry pastel, charcoal, and graphite." Ongoing - Featuring works by Roland Albert, Carl Blair, Michael Brodeur, Michaela Pilar Brown, Beverly Buchanan, Ashlynn Browning, James Busby, Michael Cassidy, Steven Chapp, Stephen Chesley, Diane Kilgore Condon, Jeff Donovan, Mark Flowers, Mary Gilkerson, Klaus Hartmann, Leslie Hinton, Sjaak Korsten, Peter Lenzo, Reiner Mahrlein, Sam Middleton, Jaime Misenheimer, Philip Morsberger, Dorothy Netherland, Marcelo Novo, Jay Owens, Hannes Postma, Anna Red-
