City Gallery at Waterfront Park, 34 Prioleau Street, Charleston. Upper & Lower Level Galleries, July 18 - Aug. 30 - "Remnants of the Rice Culture - Agricultural History As Art," featuring photographs by David Shriver Soliday, curated by Mark Long. A reception will be held on July 17, from 6-8pm. The exhibit showcases the genesis and genealogy of the coastal rice production complex once known as the Rice Empire. This collection documents man's 300-year-old record upon the landscape and explores the intersection between agricultural history and art. Soliday's aerial perspective distinguishes the subtle fading imprints of rice production and frames the monumental scale of the precisely constructed fields, dikes and canals in ways otherwise difficult to apprehend. Highlighting the role of African-American labor and expertise in transforming the native swamplands into a highly engineered hydraulic machine, the artist's compelling images, presented on infused aluminum sheet metal, prompt varied dialogues about the physical landscape, human capability and intervention, and the rice industry's enduring environmental and social impact.
